

I spend quite a bit of time in the sierras where normal radio transmissions can't be received by the conventional method. I need a satellite based radio in order to keep up with weather conditions.